

Test Document for RAG System

This is a sample PDF document used for testing the RAG system.

It contains minimal content to validate PDF processing capabilities.

The RAG system should be able to process this document and answer questions.

Sample content:

Question: What is this document about?

Answer: This is a test document for validating the RAG system functionality.

This document can be used to test document loading, text extraction, vector embedding creation, and question answering capabilities.